1.1. Introduction

Trade and Industrial sector is one among the pillar to the sustainable economic growth of Zanzibar, trade as reflected in service sector and industrial sector cumulatively contribution about 69.1% to the total GDP of Zanzibar and it is expected this sectors to remain strong for the next coming years. The contribution of these sectors also goes with employment creation in different age categories in the country. Our national statistics currently tell us Zanzibar total trade value reached TZS 394,034.7 million in 2018 which significantly increases for the last ten consecutive years for instance there is a significant increase in the year 2017 where trade value was TZS 357,170.2 million (10.3% increases). We continued to experience low volume of trade in the export sector due to low production of our exports products including commodity. Therefore contribution of export in the trade volume is low and it increased in a small pace compared to the total value of imports. In 2018 the export value declined by 60.1% from TZS 145,756.8 million (2017) to TZS 58,187.0 million, this is due to low production of our monocrop (cloves) due to its seasonal nature. Cloves contribute over 50% of our total export in the country. Therefore the total clove production decline by 92% and the reduction in the price by 20% in the world market contributed to an overall decline in the total export for 2018. The overall trend of import value has shown a gradual increases and reached TZS 335,847.7 million from 211,413.2 recorded in 2017 that shows an increased of fifty eight .nine percent (58.9%).

The Ministry of Trade and Industry together with other Government Institutions in Zanzibar plays significance part on facilitating export and import of the commodity and products in the country. The responsibility of ministry is not only on supervising the exportation and importation of the commodity in the country but also creating awareness to their customer so as to ease the process of export and import in the country and the relevant rules and procedures .The objective of this guideline is to provides information that would assist those wishing to enter into international trade with basic information that will assist them to effectively in the process. The ministry in recognizing the importance of our customers took effort to initiate in compiling and publishing the guidelines to simplify the information on international trade procedures and rules that are scattered in several documents and supervised by different institutions. Thus posing for the inherent challenges and its impact on better environment of doing business in Zanzibar. This guideline was developed to help the business people who already or wish to engage/d in the business activities to understand the procedures needed to be followed when the trader wants to export and/or import commodity, what kind of documents required, various steps to be followed. Therefore the guidelines will assist the trader and also will facilitate international trade and create enabling environment of doing business effectively.
